Sims Says He Was Embarrassed in
His Dealings With British by Failure of Naval Department to Keep Its Promises

(By Raymond Clapper)
By United Press Leased Wire
Washington, March 11.—Herbert Hoover, former food administrator, will be asked to testify in behalf of Rear Admiral William S. Sims, before the senate naval affairs committee investigating the Daniels-Sims controversy.

Sims today requested the committee to call Hoover and Chairman Hale stated he would.

Sims wants Hoover to corroborate his testimony regarding the desperate situation of the Allies when America entered the war. He said Hoover gave him "the first real information of the possible defeat of the Allies" during a conference in London shortly after he arrived.

Chairman Hale of the sub-committee announced that Hoover would be called to testify Saturday.

Sims today made the disclosure that in June 1917 he urged Secretary Daniels to completely strip the American coast of "seagoing protection" and transfer the ships to British waters. Daniels, testimony showed, refused to entertain the suggestion. In a cable to Daniels Sims said:

"I fully realize the short sightedness of public opinion and its effect on the distribution of our forces, but the fact remains that we could well afford to strip our coast of seagoing protection and concentrate it all in the critical area on this side of the ocean."

Ten days later, finding his suggestion still unheeded Sims sent another message to Daniels again urging that American ships be transferred to European waters.

"I again submit that if the Allied campaign is to be viewed as a whole there is no necessity for any high sea protection on our own coast," he said. "As long as we maintain control of the sea as far as surface craft are concerned, there can be no fear of the enemy establishing submarine bases in the western hemisphere."

Sims went on to say the anti-submarine war would be won by "diverting" part of his submarine effort to the United States coast, or to any other area distant from the critical area surrounding the coast of France and the United Kingdom.

Sims today repeated his criticisms that the navy department was slow to act on his requests for destroyers.

"The repeated promise of the department to supply additional forces at definite times were not kept, and I often found myself seriously embarrassed in dealing with the Allies because, acting upon the information furnished by the department, arrangements had been made for the disposition of these new forces, which involved rearrangement of Allied forces and these could not be made because of the failure of the new forces to arrive."

Replying to Sims' demand that the American coast be stripped, Secretary Daniels cabled that "the future position of the United States must in no way be jeopardized by any disposition of our main fighting fleet," according to a cable from the secretary read by Sims today.

Other official cables read showed Sims opposed the project for building a mine barrage in the North sea which the navy department later carried out over the opposition of British naval experts.

Census Takers Will Never Catch Up With Growth In Population

Milwaukee and Seattle are Only Large Cities in Country to Report Decrease in Number of Births as Compared With Last Year—Adoptions are Increasing
Rapidly With Girls Preferred

By United Press Leased Wire
New York.—The census bureau in Washington is publishing vital statistics for 1920 as fast as they can be compiled but information gathered by the United Press today indicated the enumerators will never catch up with the population.

Reports from cities throughout the country showed a general increase in births during the first two months of this year compared with the corresponding period of last year. This increase was practically uniform in all sections. Milwaukee and Seattle were the only places to report a decrease.

Adoptions, wherever figures were available, generally showed even a greater ratio of increase than births. Many cities reported a commensurate decrease in the number of babies abandoned by their parents. The desire of mothers who cannot support their babies to assure a good home for them rather than trust to the comparative uncertainty of an institution, has been evinced through several instances of babies "auctioned off" in some cases even before birth. Persons adopting babies generally want them extremely young. Girls appear to have a slightly better chance than boys of obtaining foster parents.

New York reported 22,535 births this year, compared with 21,165 last year. Foster parents usually prefer girl babies one year of age or under. Other cities reported as follows:

Moston, 3,051 births this year; 2,890 last year.
Syracuse 721 and 663.
Albany 293 and 346.

Hartford 702 and 688.
Buffalo 2,405 and 2,059. Officials predicted adoptions up to April 1 will surpass the total of 1919. Preference, very young girls.
Washington 1,409 and 1,379.
Richmond 770 and 587.
Atlanta 660 and 490. Adoptions increased. Preference girls.
Nashville 445 and 349. Adoptions increased; boys preferred.
Pittsburg 1,108 and 982 (January only) adoptions increased, mostly boys.
Cincinnati 1,255 and 972. Adoptions decreased. Girls preferred.
Cleveland 3,276 and 3,050. Very few adoptions but always more applications than children.
Springfield, Ill. 182 and 179.
Indianapolis 550 and 540. Adoptions decreased. Preference for girls.
Milwaukee 1,744 and 1,801. No definite figures on adoptions. No special preference on sex but apparent preference against "red heads."
Lincoln, Neb. 216 and 178. Few adoptions, slight increase.
St. Paul 903 and 721. Adoptions doubled. Preference "blonde boys of two years."

St. Louis 2,482 and 2,121. Boys have slight advantage in adoptions.
Dallas 548 and 462. Adoptions decreased; girls preferred.
Oklahoma City 287 and 236. Foster parents want children two to five.
San Francisco 1,512 and 1,372. Adoptions increased. Baby boys under one year have the call.
Los Angeles 918 and 725 (January only).
Seattle 947 and 952.
Portland, Ore., 846 and 782.

BRITISH WORKERS CONSIDER STRIKES TO ENFORCE DEMANDS

GENERAL STRIKE TO FORCE
NATIONALIZATION OF BRIT-ISH MINES IS A POSSIBILITY

(By United Press Leased Wire)
London.—Members of the labor organizations in the trades union congress have voted in favor of political rather than "direct action" to attain their demand for nationalization of basic industries—particularly coal mines—it was announced at the congress session here today.

The vote, representing workers of each local union, was 3,732,000 for political action and 1,015,000 for "direct action," totals showed. The vote was taken as a complete defeat for the radical laborites.

The congress also rejected the miners' proposal to call a strike of the more important unions to force nationalization.

(By Webb Miller)
London.—The trade union congress representing more than five and one half million workers, met at the central hall, Westminster, today to decide whether "direct action" in the form of a general strike should be attempted in an effort to compel the government to nationalize British coal mines.

The congress' meeting followed the vote of British miners to strike if necessary to enforce their nationalization demand.

It was believed, however, that final action will depend upon the recommendations made at today's session of the general congress.

When the congress met at Glasgow last fall, there was no doubt as to the strength of sentiment in favor of striking, but there has been a considerable change in the trend of labor opinion since that time.

Robert Smillie, president of the Miners' Federation of Great Britain, whose resignation because of illness was confirmed last night, was not present at today's meeting. This was believed to have weakened the position of the radicals. Herbert Smith, acting in Smillie's place and with Frank Hodges, secretary of the Miners' Federation, reported to the congress the failure of the miners' negotiations with the government. The miners urged "direct action."

William Brace, more cautious of the miners' leaders, however, favored extension of a propaganda campaign to "educate" the country to nationalization, and financial pledges of hundreds of labor candidates pledged to support nationalization at the next election.

Washington, D. C.—The United States navy will open bids March 16 and 26 for 15,000,000 barrels of fuel oil and about 12,000,000 gallons of gasoline, but if it has the same luck the United States Shipping Board had, it will still be in the market for oil and gasoline for some time to come. The shipping board recently asked for 25,000,000 barrels of oil, and got only a few. The lowest bid was $1.35 a barrel. All were rejected and new bids will be received March 4.

The navy needs 8,000,000 barrels of high-grade fuel oil and 9,000,000 gallons of gasoline on the east coast and 5,000,000 barrels of oil and 3,000,000 gallons of gasoline on the west coast. The navy may have to pay more than $20,000,000 for these supplies.

Soldier Bonus Will Disturb Money Market

Secretary of Treasury Houston Warns
That Soldier Aid Laws Will Increase Tax Burdens of American

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—Enactment of any of the soldier-aid proposals by congress would threaten serious consequences to the financial welfare of the nation, Secretary of the Treasury Houston today told the house with a motion to commit.

"In whatever way you approach these proposals, they are certain to increase the burdens of every man, woman and child in the United States," Houston said.

Houston declared that new bonds must be issued or increased taxes levied to meet the revenues necessary to aid the soldiers. Either step "presents a situation that we might not be able to handle," the secretary said. Either step would increase the cost of living because credit expansion would follow, he said.

"If congress is determined to enact this legislation it would be better to raise it by taxes, rather than bonds," Houston said.

"The proposal to expend a sum of from one to two billion dollars would be a very serious situation for the people to confront. I am not alarmed at the present financial situation, but it must be handled carefully."

Houston backed up recent statements of congressional leaders that taxes cannot be reduced materially for a long time.

Governor Harding of the federal reserve board said that a two billion dollar bond issue would be much more serious now than during the war.

Harding backed Houston's stand that if money is to be paid the soldiers it must be raised by increased taxation.

NEW COMPROMISE ON ARTICLE X IS BEFORE SENATE

ANOTHER DAY OF DEBATE IS IN PROSPECT AS SENATE TAKES UP TREATY FIGHT TO-DAY

(By United Press Leased Wire)
Washington.—Unless republican senators spurn overtures being made to them by democrats, the senate will give a chance to vote on the Watson-Simmons compromise reservation to article X. It was apparent today.

Renewal of overtures to the republicans is considered likely to prolong the suspense in the peace treaty situation. Simmons said today that the proposed compromise will be offered unless the republicans "form a close corporation against any modification of the commission which Senator Lodge himself does not sponsor."

"Does that mean that Lodge will not offer the Watson-Simmons compromise?" Simmons was asked.

"It does not," he replied. "That has not been decided."

Simmons stated positively that he has 30 democratic votes pledged to the compromise and can get more. If thirty democrats vote for it, 31 republicans would be required.

The total strength of Lodge's forces is 25 and some of his followers have told him they would not support the Watson-Simmons plan or any modification of the Lodge reservation.

The Watson-Simmons reservation provides that the United States "assumes no obligation to employ its military or naval forces, its resources or any form of economic pressure in preserving from external aggression the territory of independence of any other country."

Another day of debate was therefore in prospect when the senate took up the treaty.

WOMAN GIVEN 20 YEAR TERM FOR SLAYING SON

(By United Press Leased Wire)
Rhineclander, Wis.—Mrs. Stanley Blomski, found guilty last night of second degree murder for death of her son Alban, aged six, today was sentenced by Judge A. T. Reid, of Waupun, to 20 years in the state prison at Waupun.

Her husband, charged with being an accessory to beating the boy to death, was acquitted.

Alonists testified the woman was sane. She admitted beating the boy with an iron poker and a stick because, she said, she hated him since she was not sure who was his father, her present husband or a former admirer.

BUSINESS MEN OF CITY ARE READY TO BACK BOY SCOUTS

MEETING LAST EVENING TO FORMULATE PLANS FOR COUNCIL

SCOUT EXECUTIVE NEEDED

Chicago Man Avers Competent Executive Is Needed Here to Give
All His Time to Work
Among Appleton Boys

When a bunch of boys go after a thing they usually get it. At least that is what happened to their appeal to the fathers in Appleton for a Boy Scout council which would promote the scout work on a large scale.

The mass meeting called for last evening at the city hall by the Boys' Work committee of the Rotary club was attended by leaders from various schools, churches, business firms and other organizations. A motion passed toward the end of the meeting voicing approval of a scout council for Appleton sums up what the meeting accomplished. A committee headed by F. J. Rooney was appointed to make up a slate of 25 men or more as a tentative council, and to report at a meeting to be called in the near future. The other members of the committee are H. E. Polley, Chris Muller, George F. Werner, Gustave Keller, A. K. Ellis and James Wood.

The meeting was presided over by H. W. Tuttrup during the early part of the evening, and on his necessary departure, Joseph Koffend, Jr., took charge. C. K. Warren of Chicago, a member of the national headquarters staff of the Boy Scouts of America, was present and delivered an interesting address pointing out what organized scout work meant and what Appleton would derive from it.

Mr. Warren brought out the fact that the boys join the scout movement voluntarily, which gives it a different meaning than compulsory training. The fact that each boy's conduct affects all those in his troop gives a check-up on his activities that has added power in making him manly. The scout oath and the 12 scout laws were also set forth by the speaker, showing how they work their influence in his life. That scout work gives an outlet for the energy of the boy, and that his higher activities be given a chance to develop in the school in giving practical training were facts the speaker brought out.

Taken as a whole, the speaker showed his hearers what could be accomplished if the movement was backed by the community, with an influential body of citizens as the council, and a scout executive to attend to the details of the work. The reason why individual efforts had succeeded well as in the case with Appleton, Mr. Warren said, was the fact that the scout masters were burdened with laborious record keeping.

HIRAM LAUGHS AT WOOD VICTORY IN HOME STATE

St. Paul.—Senator Hiram Johnson, today characterized as "ridiculous" the reported elation of Major General Wood's followers over the general's "victory" in New Hampshire primaries.

"New Hampshire," said Senator Johnson, "is General Wood's home state and has not been invaded by supporters of other aspirants. It is just as ridiculous for General Wood to claim a 'smashing victory' in New Hampshire as it would be for me to claim California."

"It will be interesting to watch the results of the South Dakota primary March 23, where four republican candidates will go before the people on an equal footing."

Best Company In The State Mustered In

Appleton's National Guard is Mustered Into Federal Service
Last Night—Called Best Guard Unit in State

Called by Captain Ball, examining officer, "one of the best companies I have ever seen," 98 members of the Appleton unit of the Wisconsin National guard were mustered into federal service at the armory Tuesday night. The company went thru every test with colors flying, and without doubt is, as Capt. Ball said, "the best company in Wisconsin."

Federal recognition of the local unit is expected within ten days. Capt. Ball's report will be sent to the war department and government recognition is the last step necessary before equipment requisitions are made.

The muster was conducted with true military ceremony. The company "fell in" at the direction of Sergeant Fred Norris, and after questions regarding the legality of the enlistment of the men had been settled, the soldiers repeated the oath of allegiance to nation and state after Capt. Ball.

Capt. Ball then addressed the men briefly, presenting to them the duties of a true soldier, and advising them to devote every effort to their work so that the company "would become the most popular thing in town."

"If this is done," Capt. Ball said, "when you go into camp in competition with other companies, you will be glad to say that you are a member of the Appleton company."

The speaker emphasized the importance of obedience and discipline. Many people have a wrong conception of army discipline, he said, believing it is a harsh thing. He explained that the successful man, the orderly man, who obeys his superior, or his other commander, himself.

Under the direction of Captain Fred Hoffman, commander of the company, assisted by Lieut. Raymond Manville and Eugene Wheeler, the company drilled for a short time, and was then dismissed.

Only four men were absent at the muster last night. Thirteen married men are members of the company, according to Capt. Ball's report.

"The morale of the company is very excellent," said the examining officer in making out his report.

The company roster of the men inducted into federal service follows:

Francis L. Aldrich, John Ashman, Carl H. Bauer, George J. Bell, William L. Boelsen, Carl J. Brockman, Alden E. Buckert, Charles H. Burhans, Frank J. Burke, Fernald G. MILITARY CONTROL OF TURKEY PLAN OF ALLIED PREMIERS

MORE DRASTIC MEASURES WILL BE TAKEN IF NECESSARY
TO QUELL TURKISH
TROUBLE

TURKISH PORTS OCCUPIED

Two Ports in Asiatic Turkey Have Already Been Taken Over by Allies—Greek Troops Placed at Disposal of the Premiers

(By Ed L. Keen)
By United Press Leased Wire
London.—Extensive military occupation of Turkey with more drastic measures if necessary was considered a certainty in peace conference circles here today.

Premier Venizelos, it was understood, has offered to place Greek troops at the disposal of the Allies if they are needed. Venizelos, it was said, made his offer to the meeting of the council of foreign ministers Wednesday. It probably will be accepted.

General Milne, the British commander, would have charge of these troops. Admiral Lord Beatty, Winston Spencer Churchill and other military and naval leaders met with the council yesterday to answer questions on the proposed military measures. Earl Curzon of Kedleston, secretary of state for foreign affairs was expected to outline the general program decided upon in the house of lords today.

Allied leaders denied reports of extensive and bloody clashes between the Turks and Allied forces now in Constantinople but admitted the Allied troops were carrying out impressive military demonstrations in an effort to calm the Turkish nationalist elements, believed responsible for the Marash massacres.

In some circles today it was predicted that the entente ruling forbidding Greek troops in the zones already occupied from passing over the three mile demarcation limit, will be removed, giving the Greeks greater freedom of action.

Certain sections of the Turkish treaty, it was said, probably will have to be rewritten, especially that clause having to do with Constantinople.

The patriarch of Armenia, now in London yesterday cabled President Wilson beseeching action by the United States to halt massacres of Armenians in Asiatic Turkey.

America he said, should cooperate with the Allies in ousting the Turk. A similar cablegram was sent to 100 American bishops.

A Paris dispatch quoted the newspaper Le Temps as declaring it had learned semi-officially that the Allied military plans in Turkey provide for making effective the occupation of Constantinople, taking possession of other points and control of telegraphic communication.

It is unlikely, the newspaper believed, that the Allies will take action against the new Turkish cabinet except to obtain a pledge that the Turkish government will not support the rebel nationalist chiefs, especially Mustafa Kemal, leader of the rebel forces, believed responsible for the Armenian massacres.

Two Ports Occupied

Paris.—The Allies have decided to occupy the ports of Ismid and Mudania in Asiatic Turkey, a London dispatch said today.

Trebizond also probably will be occupied the dispatch added, adding that all Allied troops will be under the command of General Franchet d'Esperey of the French army.

The present Allied action in Turkey is in no way preliminary to election of the sultan from Constantinople, the French foreign office declared in a statement to the United Press today.

The Allied military concentration, the foreign office explained is merely to insure enforcement of the terms of the treaty of peace with Turkey, when the time comes to annul that document and to demonstrate to the Turks that the Allies "mean business."

M. Landry, minister of marine has ordered a redistribution of France's naval forces in the Mediterranean, it was learned. It provides for two squadrons.

QUESTION BLANKS ON HOUSING NEEDS BASIS FOR ACTION

GRATIFYING RESPONSE TO AP-PEAL FOR INFORMATION
REPORTED BY RE-
ALTORES

The public is responding nicely to the request of the Real Estate board for information regarding the needs of houses in Appleton. Quite a number of people have called at the real estate offices to fill out the questionnaire that is being used to gain the necessary information.

Responses are also arriving from other cities concerning the methods and success of plans in use there to overcome the housing shortage. Conditions are not quite ripe, however, for another meeting to be called, as more time is to be devoted by both the survey and incorporation committees to their work of preparing the necessary data on which to base a building campaign.

There is still time for those who wish houses built for them to fill out a blank setting forth their needs. As there is nothing in the procedure that binds the person to build a house, R. E. Carneross, chairman of the survey committee, is expecting that the number of responses will continue to grow. He hopes that no one will hesitate to state his needs, as the need actually expressed by the public will be used as the basis for determining number of houses that are to be built. Questionnaires are to be had at the offices of all the active members of the Real Estate board.

SENATE COMMITTEE PROBES FITNESS OF WILSON APPOINTEE

SENATE FOREIGN RELATIONS COMMITTEE DELVES INTO
RECORD OF BAIN-
BRIDGE COLBY

Washington.—Behind closed doors the senate foreign relations committee yesterday began investigation of the fitness of Bainbridge Colby to be secretary of state.

Rumors flew thick when Gen. Marlborough Churchill, chief of military intelligence, was summoned as the first witness. Gen. Churchill brought with him a large bundle of documents, said to include papers seized from private files and confidential reports of activities of the military intelligence agents during the war.

Gen. Churchill is said to have furnished the committee with a long list of names of persons who may have knowledge of Mr. Colby's qualifications. The list contains the names of officers in the intelligence division and some civilian. It was stated. The committee promptly issued subpoenas for two officers, who probably will be heard tomorrow.

Members of the committee bound themselves by solemn oath not to reveal any information regarding today's proceedings, and efforts of their colleagues and newspaper men to penetrate the mystery were unavailing.

One senator said that Mr. Colby had been placed in "an exceedingly embarrassing position," but insisted that the evidence so far submitted did not sustain allegations that had been made. All agreed it would be unfair to Mr. Colby to divulge information of the proceedings unless the witnesses summoned submitted stronger evidence.

The administration is awaiting an opinion from the department of justice as to whether Acting Secretary Polk can continue discharging the functions of secretary of state after March 15. For this reason the committee is disposed to hasten the investigation and bring the question of Mr. Colby's confirmation to a quick determination.

CHICAGO REALTY MEN TO WAR AGAINST PROFITEERS

Real Estate Board Will Eject Several Thousand Portable Houses on City's Outskirts to Reduce The Rents

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago.—The war on profiteering landlords was joined today by Chicago's real estate men.

Announcement was made by Adolph F. Kramer, president of the Chicago Real Estate Board, that plans are being prepared for the building of several thousand portable houses to be located on the city's outskirts.

The increased cost of flats and apartments, the rents of which have been jumped from 50 to 150 per cent, and the severity are responsible for the portable houses.

"Portable houses are available for from $500 to $600," said Kramer. "Other expenses will come to about $575. The plots, located beyond the fire limits, will cost $250. The entire cost can be paid in three years."

"In addition to the price of the house and lot, plumbing will cost about $250, which includes the installation of a bath tub, lavatory, wash bowl and a kitchen sink. Light fixtures will cost $75."

LA FOLLETTE PLATFORM DENOUNCES PEACE PACT

By United Press Leased Wire
Madison.—A denunciation of the peace treaty and of the present league of nations; a demand for the immediate restoration of free speech, free press and peaceable assembly; opposition to compulsory military service in time of peace are among the planks in the platform of the La Follette republican candidates for presidential delegates issued today.

The platform contains nineteen planks. The document declares that "we favor a platform for the republican party embracing three principles, and a candidate for president whose public record is a guaranty that he is in full record therewith."

There are two sets of republican candidates in the field for delegates. One group are the "uninstructed" delegates and the second are the "La Follette republican" delegates, who are instructed on the principles announced in the platform.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

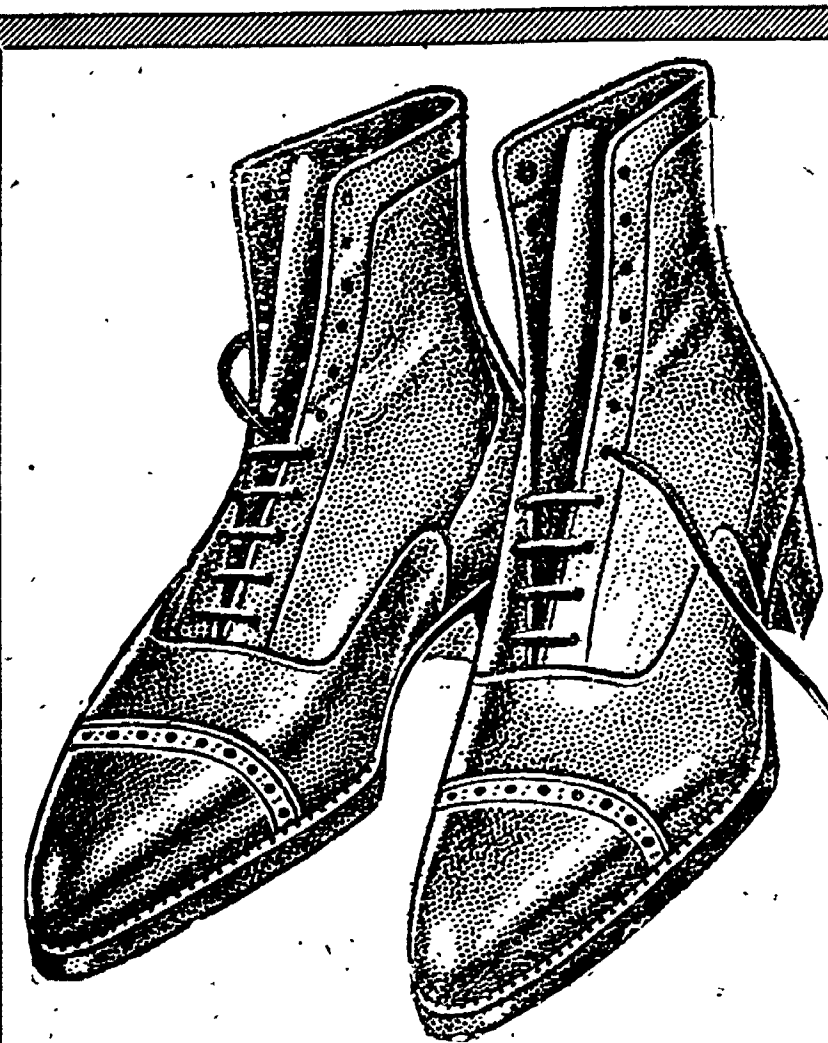

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color. 10c and 25c.

MUCH EQUIPMENT INCLUDED IN COST OF H. S. BARRACKS

MACHINERY VALUED AT NEARLY $2,000 IS IN NEW BUILDING—MATERIAL CAN BE SALVAGED

Nearly $2,000 worth of equipment, all of which can be used in another high school building or an addition to present building, is included in the cost of the high school barracks constructed by high school students, according to an itemized statement of the cost of the structure made public this morning. The total cost of the building, which is used as temporary quarters, was $5,549.24 of which $1,948.06 represents equipment.

The building was started shortly after the opening of the school year in September when it became evident that additional room would be required to care for the large enrollment. Students in the manual training department did practically all of the construction work, thereby eliminating largely the cost of labor. Items listed under the head of equipment are desks, $457.75; machinery, $1,485.21; machinery, $5.10. All of this equipment can be used again in case the barracks are dismantled. The new building is used largely by the boys in the manual training department.

Much of the material used in the building can be salvaged. Heat is furnished by the main power plant and the piping probably can be sold for almost its original purchase price.

Items entering into the cost of construction follow:

Lumber, $1,640.52; Shavings, $9.00; Hardware, $26.39; Paint, $30.14; Heating, $833.00; Lighting, $198.20; Sand and Cement, $23.17; Shades, $20.25; Desks, $475.75; Machinery, $1,485.21; Machinery, $5.10. Total, $5,549.24.

GIRL GETS WARRANT FOR ARREST OF MAYOR'S SON

Eau Claire, Wis.—William O'Neill, son of Mayor O'Neill, Chippewa Falls, was arrested Wednesday afternoon for his alleged part in the hickory club attack made by his father on Tuesday on George E. Dee, editor of the Chippewa Herald, and arraigned in Municipal court on a charge of pointing a firearm at Miss Jean Monet, Mr. Dee's stenographer, while his father was attacking Dee.

Pleading not guilty his hearing was set for Tuesday, March 16.

The warrant for O'Neill's arrest was issued on complaint of Miss Monet, who charges that young O'Neill brandished the revolver in front of her while his father and Dee were having their encounter.

District Attorney Larrabee refused Dee's request for warrants against Mayor O'Neill and his son to place them under bonds to keep the peace on the ground that he had no jurisdiction.

HYGIENE BUREAU OF HEALTH BOARD MAKES GOOD RECORD

THOUSANDS OF BADGERS ARE REACHED BY LECTURES AND MOTION PICTURES IN SIX MONTHS

(Special to Post-Crescent) Madison, Wis.—A record of many-sided activities reaching into large totals was made by the bureau of social hygiene of the state board of health in the last six months of 1919, according to the report recently submitted to the U. S. public health service. Educational measures included lectures, films, exhibits, and the issuing of pamphlets.

Members of the staff gave 159 lectures, made 93 film showings, and presented the Keeping Fit exhibit on 282 days. Two hundred and two cities and villages were visited by the speakers. There was reported an attendance of 24,000 at lectures and 20,000 at film showings, and 445,000 persons were reached by exhibits. Pamphlets were sent to 86,885, making a total of 575,885 people receiving the message for a healthier, cleaner race.

Eight clinics for treatment of venereal cases are maintained, which treated 443 indigent cases during the six-month period. The number of cases reported was 2,257, and 329 requests for arsenamine were received for indigent cases other than those treated in clinics. The clinics administered 441 treatments of this remedy.

Clinics are maintained as follows: Oshkosh, 15 Wauzoo street; Dr. John P. Schneider in charge; Madison, 27 East Main street, Dr. K. W. Smith; La Crosse, city hall, Dr. R. D. Thompson; Wausau and Beloit, in the city hall, in charge of the city health department. There are also clinics at Janesville, Superior, Green Bay and Richland Center, and one is to be opened at Kenosha.

During the six months, 741 cases were reported back by physicians as cured or no longer in a communicable stage of the disease. Eight cases were placed in detention homes. The courts gave hearty cooperation in this work. Quarantine was not found necessary nor was any case in need of hospital care.

The report of Dr. I. F. Thompson, in charge, states that the importance of this new health activity is becoming more and more recognized by all the people.

WILL DECORATE GROUNDS OF VOCATIONAL SCHOOL

The depression in the hill leading from the vocational school building to the foot of Pearl street, which for years was occupied by a wooden stairway, has been filled in with earth from the site of the new Langstadt and Meyer buildings on Washington street, and after the earth has been given time to settle it is the intention of the city to replace the old stairway with one constructed of cement. The school grounds are also to be decorated. Two nursery firms have voluntarily submitted plans.

APPLETON MAN CUTS OVER MILLION FEET OF LOGS

John Bloomer, a former member of the local police department, who has been getting out logs all winter at Enterprise, attended the funeral of Charles Heckel which was held from St. Joseph church this morning. He says that the depth of snow has greatly interfered with the work, but notwithstanding he has over one million feet of logs awaiting shipment. His camp was comparatively free from both grip and flu. Some of the camps in that part of the state have already broken up, but Mr. Bloomer expects to keep his in operation as long as weather conditions permit.

SLAIN GIRL'S RELATIVES WATCH NEGRO'S EXECUTION

By United Press Leased Wire
Eddyville, Ky.—Petrie Kimbrough, alias William Lockett, 32, negro was electrocuted here today for the murder of Geneva Hardman, 10 year old school girl. Two brothers and two uncles of the child were in the front row of spectators. They led a score of men from their neighborhood to witness the execution.

During Lockett's trial in Lexington six men were killed when a mob tried to take him from the courthouse. Lockett told the jail officials he had killed four women in the past ten years.

BOSTON OFFICER SENDS DEFTY TO RAFFIA COURT

Racine, Wis.—The surrogate court of Suffolk county, Massachusetts, with headquarters in Boston, defies the court officers of Racine county and informs them that he will not relinquish the $6,000, which is a portion of the estate of Levon Arapayan, a naturalized Armenian, who died in Boston on his way to his native land.

Because Arapayan was a resident of Racine county at the time of his death, the local courts believe that his estate should be administered here instead of in Boston, and unless the courts of Suffolk county agree to return the money, an appeal will be taken to the attorney general.

Corn Pain Stopped Quick

"Gets-It" Loosens Them So They Lift Off in a Jiffy.

The corn pains cease as soon as a few drops of "Gets-It" reach the corn. It goes out of the hurting business forever.

For a day or so the corn remains, getting looser and looser and without a trace from it. Then, it gets so loose that you just lift it right off, without even feeling it. And east it away. That's how easily and simply "Gets-It" disposes of the corn nuisance.

"Gets-It" the unfailing, guaranteed, moneyback corn remover, costs but a trifling at any drug store. Sold in Appleton and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by F. G. Walker, Voigt's Drug Store, Theo. H. Belling, Rufus C. Lowell, Schlitz Bros. adv.

COUNTRY ROADS ARE MADE IMPASSABLE

WARM WEATHER AND RAIN HAS SOFTENED HARD UPPER CRUST AND ROADS ARE CLOSED.

Travel on the country roads with the advent of the sudden thaw is practically suspended. The influence of the sun yesterday and the rain today has softened the hard crust that bore the sleighs up all winter over the deep snow, and the horses sink through so often that it is difficult to make any headway.

Farmers have gotten out in all parts of the county with teams, plows and discs. The snow is being pulverized and then plowed out of the highways. Even this is difficult to accomplish because the horses have no solid place on which to tread, but the situation is such that every possible method will be used to keep the roads open.

This year has been exceptional in the amount of snow that has accumulated on the roads, and unless the present efforts bring results, there is nothing to do but wait until the snow melts away enough so that traffic is possible. Some farmers are said to have figured on this and are stocked up with food, fuel and other necessities to last two or three weeks, but the failure of people to get back and forth will cause considerable hardship, nevertheless.

SOLVING THE SCHOOL PROBLEM.

We think the public will thoroughly approve the new scale of salaries in the high school which are to be paid the coming year. These increases run from $200 to approximately $500 a year, the great majority being from $300 to $400. This is a creditable improvement of the condition in the high school and we believe the advance will be received by the teachers in the spirit in which it is made. While it may not cover all that they feel their services are worth, or that their services actually are worth, still it represents a considerable betterment of their situation. They have the assurance that their salaries will never be any less than this new scale, and that it affords a basis for obtaining further increase.

The board of education has met the acute school situation with commendable promptness and earnestness. While other cities are delaying the matter and are formulating one excuse or another for driving bargains with the teachers on the best terms possible, Appleton has taken the question up and disposed of it in an ethical and businesslike manner. With a minimum salary of $1,000 in the grade schools and the substantial advances in the high school, we believe salaries here will compare favorably with those of other cities in the state for the year 1920. However we should not necessarily be satisfied with paying salaries that are just as good as those in other cities. It would be to our advantage to pay even better salaries, so that we may be assured of the best teachers available, together with preserving our public schools on an exceptionally high standard.

THE TREATY SITUATION

The treaty situation, whatever we may think of it as individuals, is in reality simplified by the president's letter to Sen. Hitchcock. Mr. Wilson in effect says he will not assent to ratification of the treaty with reservations which substantially alter the character and purposes of the covenant of the league of nations. Assuming that the president means what he says, we have this alternative: we can have the league of nations in practically its original form, or we can not have it at all. The choice is up to the United States. If the president is determined to follow the course he has indicated, it is no longer a question of reservations, mild, extreme or middle-ground. We cannot have membership in the league on any other terms than those which the covenant stipulates. That is the conclusion to which the president's position necessarily leads. The only thing for the American people therefore to determine is whether they want to go into the league as it is organized or whether they want to stay out of it altogether.

While this is the question the nation must determine it is not necessarily so with the United States senate. It can ignore the president's attitude as defined in his letter to Mr. Hitchcock and proceed to ratify the treaty on any terms it sees fit. It can do this on the basis of a true compromise in an effort to bring together those who really want a league of nations or it can attach reservations of a character which there is no doubt the president will refuse to accept. If the senate truly desires to bring the United States into the league of nations it will ratify the treaty with interpretative reservations only. It will listen to the advice of the mild reservationists, seeking only to protect American interests and free courses of action which conform to the constitution.

This would constitute a test of President Wilson's real position which we believe the country ought to have. There can be no question but the president will make some concessions and the senate ought to take that action which will disclose just how far it will go. The president may be right or he may be wrong in his insistence upon ratification according to the strict letter of convention, but whatever the fact, it is easily conceivable that the purposes and effectiveness of the league may be preserved with some modifications of the agreement. It cannot be regarded as a constitution hard and fast for all time and incapable of further improvement. Like the constitution of the United States it undoubtedly will have to be amended from time to time and if we can now devise some of the necessary changes which, to quote the language of the president, do not strike at the heart of the covenant, we shall certainly be justified in doing so. We hope the senate will continue its efforts to reach a compromise and put final action up to the president.

PAYING UP.

Germany, in spite of the impression to the contrary, has shown rather good speed in the matter of beginning her payments in settlement of the World War.

The Saar mines, worth one billion marks, have been turned over to France. Enterprises liquidated abroad and surrendered amount to 12,000,000,000 marks; state properties turned over to the allies in the surrendered regions amount to 6,600,000,000 marks; Germany's commercial fleet surrendered is valued at 8,250,000,000 marks; Germany has furnished coal to France since the signing of the treaty valued at 240,000,000 marks; machinery has been turned over valued at 150,000,000; railway material valued at 750,000,000; cables valued at 66,000,000. The German state and army materials left behind and turned over to the allies amount to 7,000,000,000. Germany has paid the expenses of the allied occupation of the Rhine provinces amounting to 666,000,000 marks. She has delivered cattle to the value of 390,000,000 marks; dyestuffs have been furnished to the value of 200,000,000; and she has surrendered claims on her former allies to the tune of 7,000,000,000 marks.

Altogether she has given up property to the value of 44,978,000,000 marks. As an earnest of her intention to observe the treaty terms in good faith the payments so far are substantially convincing.

UNCLE SAM'S PUZZLE.

Have you made out your income tax return? Doing that may be easy for the fellow who knows how. Maybe Uncle Sam believes that in the new form he's fixed it as easy as A. B. C. But say, the average man can tie himself up in double knots poring over the thing.

"Were you living with your wife on Dec. 31? How many dependants under 18 mentally or physically defective were receiving support from you on Dec. 31?" My, how inquisitive! There's six big pages altogether, with reference in one section to exemptions in "Schedules A, E and I." But under "Calculation of Tax" it is all made clear! There's "Item M—net income shown on page 2, item J." "Less Personal Exemption (see instruction VII)." "Balance (Income taxable at 4 per cent)." "Tax due (4 per cent on amount of item O)." "Less normal tax of 2 per cent on item F" and "Balance of tax due," so much. Perfectly plain. Perfectly plain.

Heigh-ho. One finds that he can have until March 15 before filing the thing. And he folds up old pigs in the clover and staves off the "willies" until another day.

THE DAYS BEFORE
"Twas in the days of long ago, that dim and distant time
Before the cheery dollar had become a shrinking dime,
When the home still had a kitchen and the kitchen had a maid
And the haughty corner grocer was not scornful of our trade,
When the Germans had a language singers were allowed to use,
When a maiden's skirts were long enough almost to meet her shoes,
When the brewer left a wooden cask right on the front piazza,
In the days before the dollar was be-jiggered of its jazz!
O, ye bald and ancient cronies, who can still recall the time
When the laundries did not try to make our cleanliness a crime,
When a mother might indulge her child with butter on its bread,
Aye, and once she added sugar! and no riot act was read,
When the naughty Bolsheviks had not learned to be so smart
That a handful of them might corrupt and tear us all apart,
When our lives were gently ordered, like a "Wherefore and Whereas,"
In the days before the dollar was be-jiggered of its jazz!
When the un-be-jiggered dollar bought six courses on the dinner,
It seems to me that flowers and friends and books and birds were finer;
When every shirtwaist had a back and tummy rose in the women's cheeks were softer-toned and truer,
In the days before the dollar was denatured of its cash,
O, there were plums on every tree and birds in every bush;
There were schnitzels on the wiener, there were berries on the rasp—
In the days before the dollar was be-jiggered of its jazz!

Bob Relates How the Earthquake Killed Donna Camilla

"We should all be rejoicing about Chrys' recovery," said Bob after he and his sister had won in each other's arms. "And there's no more worry to be tied onto me. Still—I find gloom enough around this place to sink a ship! What's up?"

I countered quickly with: "What became of Hamilton Certeis?" "Is it worry over his fate that keeps you girls from smiling?" Bob asked with a pretense of jealousy in his frown. "I guess not! Here's the story about him and about me. I want to get it off my chest. I never want to speak of our Mexican adventures again in my life!"

"Nor do I!" echoed Chrys.
"Nor do I!" said Chrys.
"Listen, girls! And don't interrupt me with questions. You remember, Jane, that you and I left Certeis, wounded and growling in the secret chamber? Next day, after Donna Camilla had swapped Chrys for Certeis, and after we had put Chrys safely in the car, with Spence, the old woman insisted that I go with her to the hidden room and help her to take Certeis away. She said that she couldn't reveal the hiding place to any of the servants, but that since I already knew about it, I could be of great service to her. Well, when we entered the place, Certeis was not there! I turned upon the old woman. I accused her of trapping me. She admitted that she had. And you know, Jane, that nobody can get out of that place without knowing about the springs which control the panels in the wall. Don Camilla told me that Don Manuel had fled to the coast and that he had taken Certeis with him. She laughed as she told me.

"You mean—they took ship—for a foreign port?" I stammered.
"For South America, the dame said."
"Then they were caught in the most terrible storm known on the Gulf," I said solemnly. "What if the ship went down?"

"Some retribution, I should say," was Bob's reply. "But I'll bet Certeis didn't even get wet. That man has more lives than a cat. Say, how did the 'lone' weather the storm? Has the governor wirelessly any of you?"
I shook my head. I couldn't speak.
"Dad has always been careless of the tender feelings of his family," Bob continued. "But to go on with my story—and be done with it forever! Donna Camilla informed me that she had trapped me because she hated all Americans and was bound to have the blood of one of us. Pleasant person, she was. She said that if I didn't die fast enough to please her, she would come some day when I had grown too weak to resist and end my misery with her own hands. She was crazy, of course. Hardly had she finished her hymn of hate than the walls of the room began to tremble. The quake was on again! I expected to see the roof fall in. But it didn't. The quake merely locked all those secret panels tight! The old woman flew from one to the other. She raged. She swore. But she couldn't budge one of them. Then the final shock of the quake came on and killed her. Heart failure, I suppose."

"An awful retribution!" I exclaimed. "She died in the place where she had tried to murder others! And you had to live by the side of that corpse for days! Oh, Bob!"
"There's nothing horrible about the dead, my dear. Even that ancient creature had a certain dignity—when she was gone. My great horror was due to hunger—in sight of food. There was plenty—but it was poisoned," she said. And the water, too."

Of course Chrys and I were in tears and therefore Bob, with his characteristic abruptness, changed the subject.
"I say, let's wirelessly the 'lone' and find out what the big storm did to father!"

THE PEOPLE'S FORUM

To the Editor of the Post-Crescent:—Owing to many people not understanding the new law relative to highway taxes and road work in the several towns I wish to state that this law does not become effective until May 1. Therefore all superintendents of the several road districts should see that the roads are made passable as far as possible and that all labor be accounted for to the different individuals who performed such services and the amount will be credited on the 1920 Highway Tax.

All highway taxes under the new law are to be paid in cash and the work done under the supervision of one man known as the Township Highway Commission. Just a word relative to the state and county roads. Early in the winter the county went out on these trunk highways with snow shovels and trucks and were going to keep these roads in first class condition. At that time the roads were in good condition and this work of course, was unnecessary, but a few snow storms soon put them out of commission and they have now turned the job over to the farmers, their excuse being, lack of funds. I trust the farmers will do everything possible to keep the roads open. I realize what a job it is for it has been many years since snow has been piled up on the public highway as it is at the present time. C. B. BALLARD, Appleton, Wis., March 10, 1920.

Flag Should Not be Draped Over Table
"A common but regrettable practice at public meetings is to drape the flag like a tablecloth over the speaker's table and then to place on the flag a pitcher of ice water, flowers, books, etc. Another equally careless practice, and, unfortunately, quite common, is to tie small United States flags to the bottom of a stage curtain. When the curtain is raised the flags are lifted aloft and are effectively displayed, but when the curtain is lowered, so that the stage scenes may be shifted, the flags trail in the dust of the stage floor."

"The flag should not be festooned over doorways or arches. Always let the flag hang straight. Do not tie it in a bow knot. Where colors are desired for decorative purposes, use red, white, and blue bunting."

"International usage forbids the display of the flag of one nation above that of any other with which it is at peace. Such an act is considered an insult in times of peace. When the flags of two or more nations are displayed, they should be on separate poles, or on separate halyards of equal size and on the same level."

"When the national colors are passing on parade, or in review, the spectator should, if walking, halt, and if sitting, arise and stand at attention and uncover."

"When flags are used in unveiling a statue or monument they should not be allowed to fall to the ground, but should be carried aloft to wave out, forming a distinctive feature during the remainder of the ceremony."

Stars and Stripes, Dignity of Honor
"Where the national flag is displayed with State or other flags, it should be given the place of honor on the flag. It should be placed as much as possible to its display upon the staff. Where used as a banner, the union should fly to the north in streets running east and west, and to the east in streets running north and south."

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Thursday, March 14, 1895.

Mrs. Miles Brown was quite ill with a relapse from grip.

Mrs. James McGillan returned from Chicago, where she had been visiting her daughter Katherine. O. D. Sergeant sold his 60 acre farm in Freedom to Mr. Frost for $3,000 and moved to Seymour.

D. T. Winne purchased two lots in the Third ward upon which he planned to build a residence. The thermometer was five degrees below zero, and spring appeared to be further away than ever.

The Citizens' Electric Light and Power company placed an order for a new dynamo to furnish power for sixty arc lights.

A. C. Langstadt was held up in Chicago by three highwaymen while returning to his hotel from the Wisconsin Central depot. One of the men asked him for a match while the other two closed in upon him. He broke away from them and made his escape.

A letter from J. T. Reeve stated that the Reeve party that was touring Europe had made several changes in its original plans and expected to leave Vienna April 1.

The salaries of city officials for the coming year were fixed by the common council as follows: Clerk, $1,200; treasurer, $1,200; attorney, $500; marshal, $1,000; engineer, $1,000; policemen per month, $55; superintendent of schools, $500; commissioner of poor, $500; street commissioner, $1,000; assessors, $300; mayor $150; aldermen, $100; chief of fire department, $1,500; physician $500.

Gottlieb Schultz of Hortonville died at the age of 83 years. He left a widow, one daughter and five sons.

True wit is nature to advantage dressed

LIFE

Have you felt the rush, and the sweep of the storm,
And the swirl of the wind and rain,
And, leaping at your head as the thunder peal,
And you stood your ground like a wedge of steel?

Have you stood alone on a hill-top, at night,
As the still stars wax and wane,
And learned of the might and the strength of right,
While your soul was flooded with brave new light?

Then think not you have lived in vain.
Have you pressed the crowded city street,
With its tear, and its smile, and its pain,
And traced each part of the teeming mart,
And the brotherhood of the human heart?
Then, you have not lived—in vain.
Lillian F. Lyman.

According to the financial kings of the world, back in 1914 the war could last but three months at the outside. They held there wasn't enough money on the nations' markets to finance such a tremendous undertaking; they predicted that the war would run itself out in short order; that the bottom would drop out of the whole thing. And yet—and yet the war lasted for more than four years and more money was being spent per day at its close than during the first days of the first few months. And some time ago somebody—in fact every one—stated that prices were inflated, they could not remain high, they were bound to come down, the law of supply and demand would bring them down, it was all wrong, etc., etc., etc. And yet—ah, yes, and yet!

Here's a chap with whom we can sympathize:

Francis X. Bushman and Beverly Bayne will soon be in our midst according to the press agent and we are going to see them if for no other reason than to find out if what the neighbor women said about them is true.

Why is it some of the more prominent Democrats have not come forward with a good luck campaign slogan like "Knock Wood," or something like that?

There Is No Drab
There is no drab, Du Tell, old scout, in clean cut life, which booze doth flow.

Clear brains put obstacles to rout, There's joy in landing winning clout. In buoyant health all things are bright—

There is no drab. And best of all, oh, hapless wight, Are thrills of candid heart that's light.

That knows not of a guilty doubt, Or self unworthy lurking 'bout When woman pure her love doth plight.

There is no drab. —Morris J. White.

Health Talks

By WILLIAM BRADY M.D.
NOTED PHYSICIAN AND AUTHOR

Dr. Brady will answer all signed letters pertaining to health. Writers' names are never printed. Only inquiries of general interest are answered in this column, but all letters will be answered by mail if written in ink and a stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Requests for diagnoses or treatment of individual cases cannot be considered. Address Dr. William Brady, in care of this paper.

Long Felt Want for Peristalsis.

A distinguished colleague contributes today's health talk.

Your recent article about liver pills was excellent.

I have for many years refused to give medicine for constipation, preferring to work out the problem by means of bran and other articles of diet.

I first made a study of my own case after having had several recurrences of thrombotic piles and after having been told by my friend, a proctologist of repute, that he would have me as a patient the rest of my life. I said nothing doing. I threw away his Yama-Yama stuff with Cascara et cetera and began to study medicine—but this is enough persiflage.

I find no trouble in taking bran up to 10 tablespoonfuls as a cereal with milk. I sometimes take it alone or will at times add popped corn or crackers. I can give myself a diarrhea if I care to.

My office nurse makes a bran muffin which is a wonderful fruit cake. She will enclose a recipe which may be of use in your daily column.

Do you know, Doctor, the rest of it is irrelevant.

Now, here's what the office nurse enclosed:

Bran Muffins.
2 cups wheat bran,
1 cup white flour,
1 teaspoonful baking powder,
1 teaspoonful salt,
½ cup molasses,
1 cup cold milk.

Raisins washed in cold water and chopped in small pieces, one-half cupful.

Walnut meats, one-half cupful, chopped in small pieces.

Mix thoroughly and bake in greased muffin pans in hot oven.

The near-health expert, the indefatigable "doctor," the new-fangled healer, the self-nominated "food expert," the pessimist, the dyspeptic, the theorist and the faddist have managed to promulgate the notion that wheat bran is not exactly wholesome or fit to eat every day, or that it is likely to "irritate" something or other, or that it is not digestible—which is one reason why it is a good remedy for constipation. These objections are untenable for the great majority of victims of chronic constipation and the pill or physic habit. In any event, one who must take a physic frequently can take no physic less injurious or less irritating than wheat bran, which Nature doubtless meant that even civilized man should eat freely.

These muffins my colleague's nurse makes are so all-fired good to nibble that I almost fear to print the recipe.

"TRAFFIC COP'S" EYE IS DARKENED BY AUTO DRIVER

One of Appleton's cops who is on duty 24 hours a day had his lamp darkened yesterday by the driver of an automobile truck. The assailant didn't mean to dim the officer's beacon, but just couldn't help it. The cop that has the long shift is the silent policeman at the corner of College avenue and Oneida streets, and as the driver of a Wadham Oil company truck turned the corner, he ran too close to the red-lighted traffic post and partially disabled it, extinguishing the light. He presented himself to the desk sergeant at the police station and told of his deed, but was allowed to go on his way. The light was replaced within a short time.

AMERICAN LEAGUE HAS REAL PENNANT MATERIAL FOR 1920

CONNIE MACK HAS MOBILIZED
CREAM OF MINOR LEAGUES
AND WILL START WITH PROMISING SQUAD

By Fred Turbyville
(Special to Post-Crescent)
Lake Charles, La.—They've kidded Connie Mack and called his team the "Chinese Champions" long enough. They said Connie's team would win the pennant if it played in China, for things are upside down there. But Connie means to turn things upside down in the American League some of these days and he looks on the spring of 1920 as the start of the upside-down exhibition.

Mack has mobilized here the cream of the minor leagues of 1919. He personally picked most of them during the season of 1919, when the Mackmen were hopelessly out of the running.

From some leagues came one or two and from the Southern came a whole club, but he kept only the very choice morsels in that deal. I refer to the Atlanta option Connie bought late last summer.

Mack has "exceptionally good-looking pitching and catching prospects. If one or two of the several promising pitchers come through Mack believes the team will get out of last place.

Among the new pitchers are George Gibson from Regina, Canadian League; David (Tim) Keefe, last year with Reading; William Harris, Houston, Texas League; Lyle Bigbee, Seattle, Pacific Coast; Bob Hasty, Atlanta; William Grevel, Philadelphia semi-pro; Charles Eckert, Suffolk, Virginia League; Ed Rummel, Newark, International; Pat Martin, Birmingham, International.

Besides he has Scott Perry and Roland Taylor, veteran right-handers, and Walter Kinney, veteran south-paw. The last are called veterans but they've been up only a few seasons.

Mack is proud of these prospects. He thinks they are good-looking. But there are other youngsters behind the bat and in the infield and outfield.

Cyl Perkins is the veteran catcher. He'll do most of the receiving. Two other catchers will be chosen from "Lena" Styles, Glenn Myatt and John Walker. Styles came from Atlanta, Myatt from Houston with Harris, and Walker from Des Moines.

Griffin and Burrus, both young fellows, will try for first base. George Burns going to right field if he quits being a holdout. Griffin is from Atlanta and Burrus was with Mack part of last season.

Dugan will get the keystone job if he behaves. Dykes, Atlanta boy, is a candidate. Galloway another Atlanta, will try for short. He is the last word in fielding experts. Fred Thomas and Brazil are third-base timber.

With Burns in the outfield probably will be Strunk and Tilly Walker, though Welsh and Charley High are candidates. Whitener, who is again slated for general utility work.

There will be a few vets on the team. It will look pretty young, but Mack has developed corking young teams before and he believes he can repeat.

Anyhow, he's mighty proud of the organization he has here and he believes he has the best boys there were to pick from last year's minor leagues.

HIGHS SEEK REVENGE FOR TOURNAMENT DEFEAT

Basketball Players, Wind Up Practice for Battle in Marinette Tomorrow Evening

Appleton highs wound up practice this afternoon for the game with Marinette high school basketball team at the north city tomorrow night. The defeat at the hands of Marinette in the Oshkosh tourney resulting in the elimination of Appleton from title play has stirred the fighting spirit of the locals, and they will put up the hardest fight of the season to bring home the bacon.

Jacobson, Appleton forward and captain, will be guarded by Halbigor, Marinette star. Both of these men were picked on the all-tourney team at the Sawdust city.

A return game with Marinette here March 19, will close the season for Appleton highs.

Mrs. Gregory Lentz and Mrs. Frank Oberweiser visited at Menasha yesterday.

TOURNAMENT

All-Tournament Team
Jacobson, Appleton, F. L.
Chapman, Neenah, L. L.
McIntosh, Marinette, C.
Thornton, Neenah, L. G.
Halbigor, Marinette, F. G.

Philip Jacobson, right forward and captain of the Appleton high school basketball team, has been chosen forward on the mythical all-tournament quintet following the sectional tourney at Oshkosh last week. Jacobson, together with Chapelle of Neenah, stood out as the fastest and cleverest basket player in the tourney. Detman of Marinette was the unanimous choice of the critics for the center position.

The Oshkosh Northwestern says: Three of the men picked stood head and shoulders above their competitors. They were chosen with several things in mind, and these five men were the most consistent and at the same time the best players in the tournament.

CONSERVATORY GIRLS WIN FROM COLLEGE FRESHMEN

The Conservatory team defeated the freshman team by a score of 27 to 11 in last night's game of the Lawrence Girls' Interclass Basketball tournament. The seniors and sophomores were to have played, but the seniors forfeited the game because of inability to muster a team.

The final games, one between the sophomores and Conservatory and one between the seniors and freshmen, will be played next week. It will be decided shortly how many points in the Woman's Athletic association will be given to the members of the championship team. The members of all the teams will receive at least ten points.

LAWRENCE BASKETEERS.

WIN TEN OF 16 GAMES

Lawrence college basketball team won 10 out of 16 games played during the season, a review of the year shows. The Lawrentians got away to a bad start, but were coming strong when the schedule was completed. The Blue and White captured four out of the last five games played.

Lawrence had a great scoring machine, Coach Beyer's quintet garnering 463 points in 16 games, an average of 29 a contest. Opposing teams scored 67 points.

Lawrence broke even with Beloit and Carroll and lost twice to Ripon in conference games. In the other contests, the Blue and White won from Marquette, Normal, Michigan College of Mines, St. John, St. Norbert, and Milton colleges.

BOWL KIMBERLY TEAM
Alvins defeated the Tony's two out of three games in a match contest at St. Joseph alleys Wednesday night. St. Joseph Easy Losers will bowl a match game with the Kimberly Stars at the alleys tonight.

GRAIN FUTURES ARE GOING STILL HIGHER

BAD WEATHER, HIGHER COTTON AND GRAIN CASH PRICES INFLUENCE FUTURES MARKET

By United Press Leased Wire

Chicago — Several bullish factors caused grain futures to open higher on the Chicago board of trade today. Wet weather hindering transportation, higher cotton and cash grain prices, and improved exchange were leading influences. Strength in cash rye had its effects also. Provisions were higher.

March corn opened late at 152, unchanged and rose to $1.53 1/2. May corn was up 1c on the opening at $1.48 and rose to a new high for the present movement to $1.49 1/2. July corn opened 1/2 up at $1.41 1/2, later rising 1/2. Sept. corn opened at $1.38, unchanged, subsequently rising 1/2.

May oats after a decline of 1/2 up at 33 1/2, gained an additional 1/2. July oats opened at 70 1/2 up 1/2, thereafter losing 1/2.

plished in scout work, both in molding the lives of the boys and making them helpful, useful citizens.

Charters are issued by the national headquarters only to cities whose council represents all churches, factions and other organizations, according to the officer. The work is easy to organize because it is only a program of activities and therefore does not require any elaborate building or great amount of equipment. He stated that a man engaged as scout executive for Appleton should not be paid less than $2,400 a year. The listeners were cautioned to secure the best man obtainable.

"If making worth-while citizens is a business, why not have the highest caliber of business man in charge—a man that will prove the equal of any business man in town and in the business world?" Mr. Warren remarked. What other Wisconsin cities had done was dwelt upon in detail. He also told how several Appleton boys had heard that Leigh Hooley, a student of Lawrence college, was an Eagle Scout of Milwaukee, and they gained his consent to promote the scout work here until something definite was done, showing that it is the boys themselves who desire the establishment of a council here.

At the close of the address, T. A. Gallagher, J. Plank, Gustave Keller, F. J. Harwood, George T. Frim, chief of police, and others voiced their hearty approval of the scout work, the need for something in Appleton to mold the boys into clean, manly citizens, and the necessity for action in starting the work here. Discussion of how it would affect the Boys' Brigade, the Y. M. C. A. boys' work and other local activities ensued, and in each case Mr. Warren showed how the scout work would aid instead of hinder them. The names of the men present were listed so that they could be called to another meeting as soon as some kind of an organization is perfected by the committee. All through the meeting there was the feeling that Appleton would only go forward in its work among the youth by getting into line with other cities at once. The question hinged only on the ability to raise the necessary funds, and there seemed no doubt that this can easily be accomplished. It was the opinion that about two months would be required to get the program properly before the public.

WETS HOPE TO TAKE STING OUT OF DRY LAW NEXT NOVEMBER

ELECTION OF "WET" CONGRESSMAN MAY MAKE AMENDMENT OF VOLSTEAD LAW POSSIBLE

(By Herbert W. Walker)
By United Press Licensed Wire

Washington. The vigorous campaign to wrest control of congress from the prohibitionists and amend the dry law so that light wines and beer will be legalized is being planned by "wets" throughout the country. It was learned today.

Keen political observers here whose sympathies are with the "wets" see little hope of completely overturning prohibition but they hope to make it less drastic by electing "wet" congressmen. Thus the prohibition issue will be fought out at the polls next November.

The supreme court's decision on the eighteenth amendment and the Volstead law expected soon may determine how extensive the campaign will be. Should the court hold that congress has the right to define what is intoxicating, as it has done in the Volstead law, the campaign of "wet" forces is expected to be started immediately. If their efforts are successful the Volstead law could be easily amended so that 3.5 per cent beer and ten per cent wine, would again be legal.

The supreme court in its decision on war time prohibition, held that congress had this power during the war and the question now arises whether it is also granted to congress under the constitutional prohibition amendment.

In all probability the campaign will be bi-partisan as it is known that both republican and democratic congressional campaigns will participate in such a movement in some "wet" districts.

It is pointed out that the republicans cannot afford to oppose all moves to elect wet congressmen, because of the large anti-prohibition representation from Pennsylvania, New England, Ohio, Illinois and sections of the Pacific coast. The democrats are said to be in the same boat because of the "wet" strength in New York city, New Jersey, Maryland, Kentucky, and parts of Ohio and Illinois.

SUFFRAGE RATIFIED BY WEST VIRGINIA

SENATOR BLOCH'S VOTE BREAKS TIE AND PLACES WOMEN NEAR TO LONG CONTESTED GOAL

By United Press Licensed Wire
Charleston, W. Va.—Suffrage supporters today were recipients of congratulations in messages from all parts of the country following their sensational victory late yesterday when the amendment was forced through the senate by a vote of 16 to 13.

With only two more states needed to make the required 36, attention was being directed to Delaware and Washington, where the state legislatures have been called for special session March 22.

The vote of Senator Jesse A. Bloch of Wheeling, who made a hurried trip from California to Charleston to vote on the amendment, was effective in breaking the deadlock between pro and anti-suffrage forces. Senator A. R. Montgomery was not permitted to vote, his seat having been declared vacant.

When the senate convened the elections committee recommended that the seat of Senator Montgomery be declared vacant, on the ground that he now lived in Illinois, altho he had returned to Charleston this week in order to vote on the amendment.

Senator Wallace Gribble, leader of the anti-ratification party, attacked the report, declaring that if Senator Montgomery was unseated his district would be without representation at a "critical time."

Sheboygan, Wis.—Calvin Pooler was bound over to Circuit court on $5,000 bail on a charge of assault with intent to rob. He confessed to having assaulted and robbed Edward Canlis, aged 17, of $800 in cash near the Security National bank on the main business street. His confession has implicated his accomplice, whom the police have been unable to locate.

After Sickness

Nothing restores Strength and Vitality as quickly as Vinol, our Cod Liver and Iron Tonic.

Mrs. Moore Proved This:

Warsaw, Ind.—"Influenza left me terribly weak and anaemic and with no appetite. I could not even walk around the house without being all exhausted, and as I am a housewife I had to have help. I tried tonics and doctors without benefit. I read about Vinol, and four bottles built me up and restored my strength, and I have several friends who were benefited in the same way by its use."—MRS. CHARLES MOORE.

Weak, anaemic persons of all ages are promptly benefited by this famous tonic. We are so sure it is better than any other that we will give

HIGH COURT DENIES ALIEN'S DEATH CLAIM

Madison, Wis.—An alien is not entitled to a death claim under the Wisconsin workmen's compensation law, according to a decision, handed down on Tuesday by the state Supreme court.

The question was decided in the appeal of the Union Refrigerator Transit company's suit against Antonia Kresia and the industrial commission, in which Mrs. Kresia was awarded damages against the company for her husband's death. The Dane county Circuit court ordered payment of the award. This order was reversed on Tuesday on the claim of the company that Kresia was an alien and not an employee.

The Supreme court also ordered a new trial in the George E. Hamilton murder case. Hamilton, alias Eli J. Long, was convicted of murder in Racine county Circuit court on circumstantial evidence.

He was found to have held up a Standard Oil filling station and shot the filling station keeper through the heart.

Because of a premium of approximately 15 per cent on American money in Canada, silver miners are receiving $1.55 an ounce in Canadian currency.

G. O. P. DELEGATES WILL MEET FRIDAY

UNINSTRUCTED NOMINEES GATHER IN MILWAUKEE TO FIGHT LA FOLLETTE TICKET.

Milwaukee—Quiet days in politics, at this season of the year, may be set down as the calm before the storm.

Delegate candidates for the republican national convention have been passing through the period of calm, with a storm just ahead.

At Friday's meeting at the Republican house of the candidates on the unpledged ticket, with Chairman George A. West presiding, plans will be made for a hustling campaign to defeat La Follette's slate of candidates instructed to follow the senator's orders with respect to their vote for a candidate for president and on platform questions.

This will be the initial meeting of the unpledged delegates since their nomination blanks, signed by thousands more than required by law, were filed with Secretary of State Meritt Hull.

The meeting was called by Chairman West to go into details of the campaign to be made, with each candidate free to suggest what he considered the best campaign to be made in his own district and in the state at large.

The La Follette camp is away to one of its old time starts. Letters written in the interest of the instructed candidates are being mailed out from Madison and much money is being spent in a long distance telephone campaign to arouse interest and political team work.

There will not be much speaking in the campaign. It appears to be pretty much a matter of organization and team work to get out the vote. This team work will extend into every precinct in the state. Both sides will hustle at top speed, both in the cities and out in the country.

The fact that Gen. Wood's speech at Kenosha Tuesday night was accepted as his first address of the presidential campaign in this state will not change the earlier announcement that Gov. Frank O. Lowden would follow a policy of "hands off" in Wisconsin.

convinced until after the delegates are elected. Gov. Lowden's promises not to interfere in any way with the election of unpledged delegates here will be followed out to the extent that he will make no speeches in Wisconsin until after the delegates are chosen, according to announcement from his Chicago headquarters on Tuesday.

Gen. Wood may make several speeches, including one in Milwaukee, if his boomers have their way. They do not consider this a violation of their agreement not to horn in on the delegate contest.

Nor would it be considered a violation on Gov. Lowden's part, if he followed a similar course, but it appears that he will not come in because he promised to remain out, leaving it entirely to the people of the state to choose their convention delegates.

STATE GUARDS WILL SOON BE MUSTERED OUT OF SERVICE

APPLETON COMPANY WILL SOON BE ONLY A MEMORY—THEIR SERVICE IS APPRECIATED

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Madison, Wis.—The reorganization of the Wisconsin National Guard has progressed to a stage that enables the entire Wisconsin State Guard to be mustered out of the service. Orders directing the muster out are now in the hands of the printer and will be sent out shortly. State guardsmen, if they hurry, still have an opportunity to join the National guard for one year instead of three.

The companies affected by the order are:

Seventh Infantry: Milwaukee, West Allis, Racine, North Milwaukee.

Eighth Infantry: Monroe, Oconomowoc, Kenosha, Waukesha, Hartford, Port Atkinson, Beloit, Janesville, Jefferson, Madison, Platteville.

Ninth Infantry: Appleton, Neenah, Fond du Lac, Oshkosh, Oconto, Manitowish, Green Bay, Sheboygan, Marshfield, Grand Rapids, Marinette and Stevens Point.

Tenth Infantry: Wausau, Superior, Menomonie, Eau Claire, Chippewa Falls, Ladysmith, Neillsville, Mauston and La Crosse.

Company commanders are directed to at once accumulate all the state property they are accountable for and hold it subject to the direction of the state quartermaster.

Company commanders are directed to issue honorable discharges to all men of their commands. Company commanders are directed to pay all military bills, render final returns and return the balance of their funds.

The order states "The state military authorities desire to express appreciation of the loyal, patriotic and efficient service rendered by the officers and enlisted men of the Wisconsin State Guard during the period of emergency."

The State Guard was organized in 1917 after the National Guard was called into service.

BELOIT CO-EDS DEMAND REVISION OF DATE RULES

College Girls Want Right to Stroll After Dark and Permission to "Stay Out Night"

Beloit, Wis.—Members of the Women's Self-Government association of Beloit college have selected a committee of six to wait upon Dean Tannahill and President Brannon at once and attempt to secure revision in the present code of girls' rules.

The changes to be urged are: Ten-thirty "dates" for Friday and Saturday nights.

Ten o'clock "dead line" Sunday "strolling rights."

Under present rules, all girls in freshmen and sophomore classes are required to be in their respective dormitories on Friday and Saturday nights. If they have "dates," the merry making must cease by the 10 o'clock hour. New requests ask for a half hour more of liberty.

On Sunday nights, 9 o'clock is the dead line. The change asked for gives another hour of time.

The "strolling" ordinance enacted last year provides that "there shall be no strolling after dark." Girls are to request that would-be stargazers be allowed to wander Beloit streets in congenial company once more.

"The excellent social conditions in the college and city tend to minimize the needs for stringent regulations," the college paper said in an editorial. "The present rules were made during the height of the hoop skirt styles."

Girls appointed on the committee that will take the matter up with college officials are the Misses Sue Lowry, Dorothy Willard, Jessie Mitchell, Mary Martin, Margaret Owen, and Mary McCauley.

WOMEN HOPE FOR RIGHT TO VOTE BY NEXT MONTH

By United Press Leased Wire
Washington.—Suffrage leaders today were confident that the constitutional amendment granting votes to women will be finally ratified by April.

A suffragist victory in West Virginia after one of the most dramatic fights of the long campaign will make the number of states which have ratified 34, only two less than are needed to make the amendment constitutional.

The legislatures of Delaware and Washington meet this month to consider suffrage.

Final ratification of suffrage by April would bring into both conventions and the November elections the full influence of millions of women voters.

NEED NEW OIL STRIKES TO RELIEVE SHORTAGE

Petroleum Men Are Told That Price of Gasoline Will Soar Unless More Raw Material Is Found

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago.—The future price of gasoline hinges today on success of making new oil strikes, according to oil men attending the National Petroleum congress here Wednesday.

New oil strikes only, in the opinion of the operators, will prevent another soar in the prices of gasoline.

now selling from 25 to 29 cents a gallon, according to the locality.

"There is a great shortage of oil," said Thomas O. Harris, secretary of the Independent Oil and Gas Producers' Association, Shreveport, La. "It is impossible to hazard a prediction as to the future."

"Permits to allow operation of wells in Mexico, recently granted Americans by President Carranza, will ease the situation some. But it all depends on success in making new strikes."

Harris believes the untapped oil resources of this country amount to considerably more than is generally thought. He predicted the near future will see fuel oil displacing coal in hotels.

Several hotels in the south, he said, have started using fuel oil.

W. E. MacEwen, secretary of the National Refining Company association, Cleveland, O., will address the congress today on "the problems of the refiner."

SOCIALISTS PLAN TO CALL ON PRESIDENT

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago.—Socialists on April 13 will demand of President Wilson a yes or no answer to questions regarding "political offenders." It was announced here today. The party's national committee meeting here arranged for a mass meeting in Washington on that date—the anniversary of Eugene V. Debs' incarceration.

The delegations will march to the White House where they hope to be received by the president.

Eugene V. Debs is the only man considered as the socialist candidate for president. It was stated, the party convention May 8 in New York is expected to nominate the imprisoned leader. In the event Debs is not at liberty the campaign will be conducted by the vice presidential candidate.

HARD TIMES COMING ROCKEFELLER AVERS

By United Press Leased Wire
Chicago.—American people are on a spending jag staggering to the brink of hard times and national want, John D. Rockefeller, Jr., declared here today.

War time economy and thrift lessons are more essential now than in war times, if national distress is to be averted, he declared. The nation must save more and produce more, Rockefeller said.

Prohibition is bringing prosperity and content, Rockefeller said.

SERMON GOES LONG WAY TOWARD ENDING STRIKE

By United Press Leased Wire
Cleveland, O.—A brief sermon started a strike of packing house workers on the way to amicable settlement here Wednesday.

John J. Walsh, conciliation commissioner for the United States department of labor pleaded with 600 Swift and Company employees to "remember God's teachings" to get out of "the slough of misunderstanding, pride and hate" and to "help each other prepare for heaven."

The managers promised to settle matters by arbitration and the strikers immediately announced they would return to work.

WILSON'S VIEWS ON TURKEY ARE SOUGHT

ALLIED PREMIERS GET PRESIDENT'S SUGGESTIONS BEFORE TAKING ACTION ON TREATY

By United Press Leased Wire
Paris.—The Allies will take no chance on venturing to the White House in Washington on their plans for making peace with Turkey, diplomats here said today.

The premiers, they said, are proceeding with the greatest caution, and, warned by their experience in attempting to settle the Adriatic dispute, have instructed their ambassadors in the United States capital to obtain as soon as possible the views of President Wilson with regard to Turkey.

Premier Millerand, it was learned, will avoid public expression in the Turkish question, until he has a report from Ambassador Jusserand.

Wilson, it is believed here, will advocate expulsion of the Turk from Europe, while France feels that ousting of the sultan would be equivalent to making it a British city, thus jeopardizing French interests in the Near East. The general opinion prevails here that France feels that Great Britain and Italy may have aligned to dominate Turkish affairs and commerce and that French prestige is menaced.

Cocoanut Oil Fine For Washing Hair

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Multisided cocoanut oil shampoo (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Multisided cocoanut oil shampoo at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.

the flight of the dove, Noah said to his family and the zoo:

"Well, if he doesn't get some place, he'll die trying."

America's 1920 invasion of Europe will be doubly symbolic of the dove. It will be a peaceful mission the A. E. F. of athletes sets out to accomplish next summer in Belgium and if the boys in Uncle Sam's spangles don't get some place in the Olympic games, somebody will know they've been in for a awful race.

Across the water they are accusing the loquacious Yankees of their characteristic braggadocio in already having Uncle Sam's head measured for the new Olympic wreath.

If some of those "doubting Thomases" could run over the list of American prospects and get wind of what they have been doing they might get a good hunch that history is going to repeat itself.

Performances in the indoor track meets this winter have been so bright that A. A. U. officials are losing some of the concern they felt last fall over American prospects.

When Jack Scholz, university of Missouri star, equalled the world's record of 7-15 seconds here recently in the 70-yard dash, he looked good enough for a repeat in the big world games. Charley Paddock, university of California, winner of the 100 and 200 meters events in the Inter-Alleged games, looks to be another sure point winner.

Then, in addition, as a nucleus to build around, there are the three New York "babies": Paddy Ryan, Matt McGrath and Pat McDaniel.

These are known by their deeds. Their fellow teammates will be picked from more than 100,000 athletically inclined youngsters from the Gulf to rocky Maine and from the Atlantic to the sunny shores of California, the incubator of stars.

For every event there is a wealth of "good material."

In the 100 and 220-yard dashes there are Henry Williams of Spokane A. C., winner of the Pacific Northwest and the Pacific Coast championships last year in 9-4-5 and 22 seconds; Billy Hayes, Notre Dame winner of the "100" in the Western Conference meet in 9-4-5 seconds; Loren Murchison, Metropolitan champion and others.

The "440" has Frank Shea, Pittsburgh A. A. national champion, and the winner of the Allegheny title in 52 seconds; and Earl Eby, Pennsylvania, winner of the 440 and the 880 in the A. E. F. meet, first in the 400 meters and second in the 800 meters at the Inter-Alleged games.

In the broad jump there are Fred Smart, Chicago, A. A. national champion with a mark of 22 ft. 7-3/4 in.; Sol Butler, the big negro of Dubuque, winner of the Inter-Alleged games with a jump of 24 ft. 9-3/4 in.; and winner of the Penn relays; Sherman Landers and others.

The high jump lists among its notables Johnny Murphy, Portland, Ore., winner of the Pacific Northwest and Pacific Coast championships at 6 ft. 2-1/4 in.; Landon of Yale, intercollegiate champion, with a jump of 6 ft. 2 in.; and Larson of Utah, second in the Penn relay events and winner of the Inter-Alleged jumps. Egon Erickson, veteran New York cop, star jumper of eight years ago, showed that he must be reckoned with yet in the recent Millrose games when he sprightly cleared the bar at 6 ft. 2 in. and came near breaking the world's record.

Bob Simpson will be missed in the hurdles but there are other able boys getting over the bars, including Fred Kelly, Metropolitan champion and second in the Inter-Alleged games; Jo Loomis, Chicago, Central association champion; Earl Thomson, Boston A. A., and others.

Norman Ross should be supreme in all the water events; Ray should have his own way in the running events; the weights, the pole vault, the hop, step and jump and the relay are made for the Yanks.

So, why not crow a bit.

NEENAH STORY OF STRIKE IS DENIED

NO WAGE DIFFERENCES BETWEEN CARPENTERS AND CONTRACTORS EXIST IN APPLETON

A news story appearing in a Neenah newspaper yesterday to the effect that carpenters in Appleton are on a strike and that a strike of all building trades is in prospect was emphatically denied here this morning. The Neenah paper asserted that at a meeting of the Master Builders here Tuesday the contractors refused to meet wage demands of carpenters as well as bricklayers, masons and plasterers.

According to information here, the only wage differences exist between the bricklayers, masons and plasterers' union and the contractors. Carpenters have reached a satisfactory settlement with the builders and there is no hint of any kind of trouble.

A mass meeting of all the building trades will be held at two o'clock Sunday afternoon at Trades and Labor hall, it was announced this morning by William Eggert, secretary of the masons' union. Masons, bricklayers, plasterers, carpenters, plumbers, sheetmetal workers and painters will be invited to attend.

PACKING PLANT MAY START AT NICHOLS

NORTH CICERO LOCAL OF THE EQUITY SOCIETY SHIPPED MUCH STOCK LAST YEAR

The North Cicero local of the American Society of Equity shipped $38,000 worth of stock last year, according to a report read at the business meeting this week.

An agreement was also entered into with the Seymour local through the board of directors by which its stock will be listed through the listing official of the North Cicero local, Emil Mueller. They are to receive five cents per hundred pounds live weight for stock shipped by the Seymour local, and the former stands the loss in transit if any. All the business is to be transacted through the North Cicero local.

It was explained by August Burmeister that a co-operative packing plant will be constructed at Nichols and the members will be able to buy the products in any amount the same as they do from the preserve factory at present.

CHEROKEE IS PARDONED AND SEEKS FOR FAMILY

Indian Sworn to Keep White Men From Trespassing Is Freed From Murder Sentence and Wants His Squaw and Child

(Special to Post-Crescent)
Muskogee, Okla.—Jack Teekahlanneesky, brave of the Cherokee tribe, is searching the Oklahoma hills for his squaw and his child.

Teekahlanneesky last saw the pair between the bars in the end window of "Ten Spot," the prison car that carried him from Vinita to Leavenworth prison, 17 years ago to begin a life term for a killing that white men said was murder.

The Night Hawks were Cherokees sworn to resist the white invasion with their lives.

Wolf, a Cherokee, too, helped white men against his brothers. The Night Hawks drew lots.

Teekahlanneesky took the short straw from the medicine man's hand. Wolf was killed by two bullets and the trial of Teekahlanneesky in the federal district court was brief.

A white man told of the creed of the Night Hawks and with a compassion Teekahlanneesky might not have understood, he didn't hang up on the prairies he had sworn to keep free of white men's houses.

Instead they locked him up for the rest of his life.

President Wilson pardoned Teekahlanneesky. The brave came to Muskogee, stayed one night and disappeared into the Spavinaw hills, in Under Searching Eyes— Do you ever wince inwardly?

AN unexpected meeting—a battery of eyes focused upon your face—Can you meet it with composure? Is your skin flawless? Clear, lovely in coloring?

Or is there some blemish that stands out mercilessly in your own consciousness? Some fault in your complexion that you know observant eyes must take notice of?

There is nothing that so destroys a man's or woman's poise and self-confidence as the consciousness of a complexion at fault. Even a little blemish in some conspicuous place makes you miserably embarrassed. You want to shrink into the background. You lose your confidence, your gaiety. Your very personality is dimmed, just when you are most anxious to appear at your best.

Yet this suffering is entirely needless. You need never be miserable and tongue-tied from such self-consciousness. Almost anyone, by simple, regular, hygienic care of the skin, can free her complexion of the defects that so commonly mar an otherwise lovely face.

Disfiguring blackheads—enlarged nose pores—a skin that will get shiny—These things can be corrected.

Take care of the new skin that is forming every day as old skin dies. Give it every night the right treatment for your particular trouble, and within a week or ten days you will notice a marked improvement.

How to remove skin blemishes

Take one of the most common skin troubles. Perhaps your skin is constantly being marred by unsightly little blemishes. No doubt you attribute them to something wrong with your blood—but authorities on the skin now agree that in the great majority of cases, these blemishes are caused by bacteria and parasites that are carried into the pores from outside, through dust and fine particles in the air.

By using the Woodbury method of cleansing your skin, you can free it from such blemishes.

By the right care you can not only free your skin from blemishes—you can keep it smooth and clear. Use the special treatment recommended here.

Just before retiring, wash in your usual way with warm water and Woodbury's Facial Soap, finishing with a dash of cold water. Then dip the tips of your fingers in warm water and rub them on the cake of Woodbury's until they are covered with a heavy cream-like lather. Cover each blemish with a thick coat of this and leave it on for ten minutes. Then rinse very carefully, first with clear hot water, then with cold.

Use this treatment until the blemishes have disappeared, then continue to give your face, every night, a thorough bath in the regular Woodbury way, with Woodbury's Facial Soap and warm water, finishing with a dash of cold water. In this way you can guard against any reappearance of the blemishes.

Special treatments for all the commoner skin troubles are given in the famous booklet of treatments that is wrapped around every cake of Woodbury's Facial Soap. Get a cake today—begin, tonight, the treatment your skin needs.

You will find Woodbury's Facial Soap on sale at any drug store or toilet goods counter in the United States or Canada. A 25-cent cake lasts for a month or six weeks of any treatment, or for general cleansing use.

Would you like a trial size cake?

For 6 cents we will send you a trial size cake (enough for a week of any Woodbury facial treatment) together with the booklet of treatments: "A Skin You Love to Touch." Or for 15 cents we will send you the treatment booklet and samples of Woodbury's Facial Soap, Facial Powder, Facial Cream and Cold Cream. Address The Andrew Jergens Co., Spring Grove Ave., Cincinnati, Ohio.
